A MESSAGE FROM LYNN

Thank you for your interest in joining the ownership of Global Cassero 3 (otherwise known as Jerry) – I hope you are as excited as I am to become a vital part of his promising future.

This Syndicate allows owners to become directly involved in the journey of producing an international caliber horse up through the levels to the top of the sport as a future team prospect.

It gives you a chance to closely participate in what I wholeheartedly believe is the greatest sport in the world. Three-day eventing is an intense and exciting sport, not only for riders but also for a passionate group of supporters, spectators, and owners.

While my desire to win at the international level in this thrilling multi-discipline sport is fueled by my competitive nature, figuring out how to bring out the best in each individual equine partner keeps me passionate about the long term journey.

I have been listed to U.S. teams on four different horses with the last two being owned by a Syndicate. My longtime campaigner is one of the rare horses in states to make it to back-to-back championships, proving I have a consistent track record of riding and producing horses to team level and successfully keeping them going at the top

Whether you want to slip Jerry a cookie after his ride, get a behind the scenes view of his daily training and routine, or take advantage of the many opportunities to see him in the heart of the action at international venues, there is a place for you in the Syndicate.

- Lynn

WHAT IS THREE-DAY EVENTING?

Eventing is best described as an equestrian triathlon. Comprised of three phases, the sport tests a rider's skill more completely than any other.

Dressage, the first phase, shows the horse's and rider's ability to perform a series of prescribed classical movements on the flat in an enclosed arena. The second phase, cross-country, involves the horse and rider galloping over natural terrain, jumping a variety of fixed obstacles along the way. In the final phase of show jumping, horse and rider jump a series of stadium fences in an enclosed arena.

The rider accumulates penalty points in each phase based on varying factors and the rider with the lowest amount of points at the end of the three phases takes home top honors. The sport evolved from a military contest to an Olympic competition. It is an exciting sport attracting interest from all levels of sports enthusiasts, from weekend hobby riders to professional international stars.

ABOUT LYNN

Lynn Symansky is one of the top three-day eventer riders in the world. She has competed at the international level for the last 20 years, and has an accomplished resume which includes representing the United States on seven senior teams – 2011 Guadalajara Pan American Games team gold, 2014 Normandy World Equestrian Games team, 2015 Aachen Nations Cup team bronze, 2016 Rio Olympic Games traveling reserve, 2017 Great Meadow Nations Cup team gold and individual silver, 2018 Tryon World Equestrian Games team, and 2019 Lima Pan American Games team gold and individual silver. In addition to her team appearances, Lynn has completed 12 CCI5* competitions around the world at Kentucky, Badminton, Burghley, and Pau.

Lynn has been fortunate to ride a wide variety of horses, from off-the-track thoroughbreds (OTTBs) to U.S. and European purpose-bred sport horses. She has produced many horses up to the highest levels of the sport, and has the experience and unique instincts to customize an approach to bring out the best in each individual horse and rider. Lynn believes that hard work, communication, a systematic approach, and patience are the keys to bringing out each partner's full potential.

In addition to her competition career, Lynn also has extensive teaching experience. From Advanced level competitors, to ambitious young riders and passionate amateurs, Lynn's experience is invaluable to all different levels. She is a highly sought after clinician and speaker, an A rated pony club graduate, and teaches clinics and demos around the country.

Lynn was born and raised in Vienna, Virginia and graduated Cum Laude from Washington & Lee University in 2005 with a BA in business management. She currently trains and operates her business out of Handlen Farm, a beautiful 33 acre facility nestled in the heart of Middleburg, Virginia.

Global Cassero 3 "Jerry" was bred and competed in Germany before being sourced by Global Event Horses in Ireland. He was campaigned through the CCI2*-L level with wins in Poland and Ireland before he was brought to the U.S. by Lynn's friend and fellow competitor friend Katherine Coleman. Lynn and Jerry began their partnership in the beginning of 2019, and won their first international competition at the Red Hills CCI2*-S. Jerry debuted at the CCI3*-S level last fall and will compete at a CCI3*-L this spring.

Jerry is a big rangy horse with incredible quality and class. He is stunning, fancy type with super movement in all three gaits. He is a scopey jumper with an incredible uphill gallop, and is brave and honest. He has a super work ethic and willing nature. He has all the right pieces to develop into a serious international contender for the future.

JOINING THE SYNDICATE

This Syndicate provides you with the opportunity to enjoy the thrill of owning a World Class event horse at a realistic rate, compared to the significant purchase price and yearly maintenance costs that accompany individual horse ownership.

By syndicating Jerry, Lynn will be able to continue developing this world class talent in her own program and help him reach his full potential. With your support, he will be backed and managed by Lynn and her reputable team of vets, farriers, physios, and support staff with a proven track record. Lynn believes a strong relationship with a supportive team is imperative for each horse to receive the ultimate care an athlete of Jerry's caliber requires.

The ultimate aim is for Jerry to compete on the world stage, and be a serious contender for the 2022 World Championships in Pratoni del Vivaro, 2023 Pan American Games in Santiago, 2024 Olympics in Paris, and beyond. This is your opportunity to help support one of America's top international team riders stay paired with a talented horse as they begin their journey to the top.

While becoming a part of the Syndicate is not a direct investment opportunity for financial gain, the immeasurable return on investment you receive by becoming a significant player in one of the country's top programs is an intangible incentive. All yearly/quarterly maintenance fees are entirely tax deductible, and we will help guide you on the easiest route to execute this.

As a shareholder in the Syndicate you will have direct access to high performance eventing—both behind the scenes and on the field of play. You will be kept informed via phone, email and/or social media of all relevant news pertaining to Jerry's training, progress, show schedule and official rankings through leaderboard results. You will be able to watch your horse compete at all competitions and have direct access to them. As an owner, you will enjoy additional perks at many major competitions through the USEF, even if Jerry wasn't competing at every one of them. You can receive invitations for specific social gatherings and outings, private course-walks and VIP options, be informed of coordinated travel to international team events, etc. Syndicate members can also receive tickets and stabling passes at top national and international competitions and receive a percentage of all prize money won by Jerry.
